grand display of heavenly pyrotechnics and booming thunder.

Spring rains, bright sunshine and growing grass impart a cheerful aspect to nature, animate and inanimate.

Uncle Davy Taylor is building a new yards, and will be a resident of Vinita ing a spring stock of goods in St. Louis this week. They left for that city on Sunday.

Fifteen carloads of horses from southwestern Texas were unloaded at the M.
& T. stock yards, Monday morning, for this market.

Mayor Trott has enlarged the grounds of his residence property next to his lumber yard, and is making several very tasteful improvements.

Capt. W. G. Nelms, one of our most courteous and popular merchants, has sold his stock of goods to Frank Class, line of business.

The "who's, whos" of the cow-boy, and the crack of his whip, as certainly betoken the dawn of spring as the croaking of cranes or gabbling of geese in their northward flight.

Vinita is the only town known that allows travel of cars to plant themselves on a crossing and remain until it suits the convenience of the conductors to move on, to the delay and inconvenience of travel.

Mrs. Govel, wife of Prof. Govel of the Cherokee Orphan Asylum, and niece of Chief Bushyhead, is at the home of Mr.
Henry Drew, having come to Vinita for medical treatment, as she has been an invalid for some time past.

A man bought a new pocket-book the other day, at Patton's, and threw his old one out into the street. Several men were seen to go back into the alley to examine it, and carefully throw it away again. Alas, poor human nature!

The medical experts who examined the supposed foot and mouth disease in cattle in the vicinity of Neosho Falls, Kan., reach the unanimous conclusion that the disease was due to ergot in the grass. Ergot is a queer medicine, anyhow.

Messrs. Poe & Shear received, Saturday, by way of the "Frisco R. R., from Illinois, a shipment of high-grade Shorthorn, Jersey and Hereford cattle, which was largely composed of very fine animals. They are for sale.

The third term of Worcester Academy opened on Thursday, March 27th.
The attendance opens larger this term than ever before. Miss Durham is still in St. Louis, and is to speak at a meeting in Pilgrim Church to-day. She will be at her post next week.

Now, at this day, cometh the odorous wild onion, and disperseth itself in the butter and milk, and even in the beef, according to the taste of some. A good antidote is said to be eating onions yourself, and finishing with car-nells, cloves, etc.

Elsewhere will be found an address to the Old Settler Cherokees, which we insert by request of Wm. Wilson, President of their meetings. But in so doing we are not to be understood as endorsing his reflections on the Secretary of the Executive Department.

Mr. W. H. Marker has brought 100 head of cattle through the winter on his ranch on Cabin creek, without losing one from starvation, and but five from hurts and all other causes. He did it by early feeding, so that his cattle were in good condition for the winter.

EVERYBODY KNOWS IT.—When you have the itch, salt rheum, galls or skin eruptions of any kind, and the piles, that you know without being told of it, M. Frazee & Co., the druggists, will sell you Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy for $c., which affords immediate relief, and is a sure cure for either of the above diseases.

Died.—At the San Francisco Hotel, Vinita, I. T., March 28th, 1884, Mr. Arthur Pratt, of pneumonia. The deceased was a native of the Island of Jersey, and was about 26 years of age.
Nothing further is known of him. He was cared for during his last sickness by T. D. Ross and Dr. Oliver Bagby.
All that is known of him is recorded in the register at the "Frisco Hotel."

A. Mills was in town last week, and called at this office with an order for two stock cuts in the CHIEFTAINS, which will appear, with proper ornaments commonly called brands, next week.
Mr. Mills corroborates the statement made by Mr. McClellan in last week's issue, in regard to the condition of stock west of "ninety-six," and thinks the loss of stock in the Cherokee Nation overestimated.

Oloott Moore, native, died at his residence on Horse creek, Delaware District, Thursday night last, of congestive chill. Mr. Moore was a son of Matthew Moore, who resided in Canadian District, and a grandson of Thomas Woodard, a man of considerable prominence in the Nation prior to the war.
The deceased leaves a widow with several children, and a large number of friends among his neighbors.

Stock men are feeling better now, and report both horses and cattle doing well.

Mrs. D. W. Bushyhead, Mrs. L. B. Bell and Miss Bell returned from Washington Thursday last.

Our City Fathers and lot holders will do a good thing for the town and future generations by setting out shade trees along our streets and around their premises.

A private note states that Miss Mary Brewer, the daughter of Col. O. P. Brewer, is at Ft. Gibson under medical treatment, but rapidly failing from pulmonary affection. Miss Brewer is the early morn of womanhood, and was at one time a teacher in the Cherokee Female Seminary.

Saturday afternoon last the combined steam mill and cotton gin of Wm. Percival, at Ft. Gibson, caught fire and was burned entirely in a short time. We have not heard the amount of loss sustained. Such a calamity is to be regretted, as it is a loss not only to the owner, but to the surrounding community.

C. S. Robinson, the genial, jovial, generous soul, who has made Vinita his home for more than a year, departed yesterday for other parts, much to the regret of his many friends here. His future home will be in Carthage, Mo., whither follow good wishes for himself and his beautiful and accomplished better half.

Henry Effert has been advised by Chief Bushyhead that President Arthur had signed a pardon for the offense of which he was convicted by the District Court at Ft. Smith, in connection with the removal of the old railroad Hotel at this place. The pardon is an act of justice which will meet with the hearty approval of those acquainted with the origin and history of the case.

Col. Stroud and Messrs. Bethunen and Patton, from Bentonville, Arkansas, passed through Vinita the 1st inst., with five wagons and 250 head of stock cattle, bound for Montana Territory, where they design going into the stock business. The party consisted of ten persons, including two families. Judging from their full-rigged prairie schooners and the condition of their animals, they are well prepared for the long journey ahead of them.

The first steam plow ever seen in the Territory has been introduced by Rev.
G. F. Thompson of Tahlequah, and will be put into operation on his place near the Mo. Pacific Railway, four miles north of Cozy-yah post-office, near Pryor's creek. The traction engine and manager are on the ground, and the plow will be put to work as soon as it can be got in readiness. This is really something new, and we shall be gratified if it proves to be every way successful. The rich prairie soil in which it is to be worked affords a clear and inviting field for such an enterprise, sustained by capital and directed by skill and intelligence.

The arrival, Saturday night last, of a train-load of cattle from the East, over the "Frisco R. R., brought out in force, Sunday morning, the stock men of Vi-nita, who visited the stock yards in various ways, some afoot, some in hacks, some in buggies, and some on horse-back. A few who used the latter conveyances were on borrowed horses, and could be easily distinguished from those who rode their "boon hainals." One party in particular, who backed a long-legged, blue-faced, one-eyed Ben-cephalus of the Texas persuasion, was perched on a saddle, the stirrups of which were six inches below the points of his toes, attracted general attention, and caused several inquiries as to "what that cow man came from."

The Union exercises of last Sunday, held in the Presbyterian church, were devoted to the subject of temperance.
At 11 a. m. Mrs. Laura G. Fiten of the Minnesota W. C. T. U., delivered a lecture of Scandinavian vigor and womanly grace to a house filled with an interested and gratified audience. At night the Rev. W. P. Haworth, pastor, preached a sermon illustrating from Bible history the effects of temperance and intemperance on individual character. He was followed by Prof. Cundall with extemporaneous remarks showing the dangers and evils of temperance and gambling, which were both timely and eloquent. If Vinita is to become and remain a healthy center of education, where parents can safely entrust their sons, the authorities of the town must regulate and restrain its drinking and gambling saloons.

We are informed that a couple of deputy U. S. Marshals, or the posse, went to a house belonging to W. H.
Marker, one of the solid men of the country, who lives on Cabin creek, and suddenly shot four geese of a fine breed which cost $5 apiece, and also wounded a calf "accidentally." The reason they did it was because they supposed they were destroying the property of a "nigger"—a law-abiding, inoffensive man, whose only crime was being a negro.
Perhaps if he had been consulted about it, he might have managed to have been an Indian, or a white man, or a New Zealander, but as it was God Almighty made him a negro, and he is likely to remain so while he sojourns here, and we fail to see why that should afford a pretext for destroying property supposed to belong to him. If U. S. marshals expect to have the respect and confidence of our people, they must see to it that their deputies or posses do not set an example of wanton lawlessness.

Dick Williams, a well known and highly respected citizen of the Nation, died of pneumonia at 4 o'clock a. m., April 1st, at his residence on Neosho river, in Delaware District. He was a native of Tennessee, and came to the west in early life. He was one of the X.
Aubrey party who first crossed the plains by the southern route from Independence to California, and had a large experience in frontier life. His wife was a niece of Capt. Parks, so long the Chief of the Shawnee Indians, and he came to this country under the agreement by which the Shawnees were incorporated with the Cherokees. He was a farmer and stock raiser, and perhaps the most enterprising man in the beautiful section of country in which he resided. As an evidence of his public spirit it may be mentioned that he built a schoolhouse and maintained the teacher if it for some time at his own expense. His wife and seven children, all grown exception, survive him. His death is a loss to the community in which he lived.

Bruner Bros., of Tulsa, who arrived recently from Ft. Worth, Texas, have given us a few items of stock news.
The number of northwestern buyers was very large, and it was estimated that a half million of dollars would be invested in cattle by them the present season. The general run of prices for cattle delivered on Red River would probably be for coast and Eastern Ter-as 1-year-olds $12.50, 2-year-olds $18.50, for Panhandle cattle, same ages, $17 and $22.50, and for Brown and adjacent counties, $15 and $20. These are mentioned for steers. Heifers are from one to two dollars per head higher.

Two hundred head of Tennessee cattle, consigned to Skinner & Hall of this place, arrived Saturday night by way of the "Frisco," and were driven from the "Frisco yards early Sunday morning to the M. & T. stock yards. The stock was bought in East Tennessee, North Georgia and North Mississippi, and although several days on the road, they arrived here in fair condition, and just in time to get the first green grass of the season. In conversation with Mr. Hall, one of the consignees, our reporter learned that this was the first shipment of cattle to this place from the section they were brought, and are a good average of the stock of that country. The report that this stock was shipped on double-decked cars Mr.
H. firmly denies.

A SURE CURE FOR PILES.—The first symptom of piles is an intense itching at night after getting warm. This unpleasant sensation is immediately relieved by an application of Dr. Bosan-ko's Pile Remedy. Piles in all its forms itch, salt rheum and ringworm can be permanently cured by the use of this great remedy. Price 50 cents.

CHAPTER II.
It was night. The black clouds hung in thick, heavy folds in the northwest, and threatened a coming storm. The deep, rumbling sound of thunder reminded the old soldier of grim death on the battlefield. The air was heavy—not a leaflet stirred. One could not help feeling that some unusual calamity was near at hand. The black clouds revealed tongues of fire, as the vivid flashes of lightning lit up the awful scene now about to be enacted. It was a critical moment in the humble home of our hero, Wild Jim of Tight Wad. The fair bride of one year stood trembling with fear lest their home might be demolished by the terrible cyclone now approaching. The 3-months' old babe (the very picture of Jim) lay quietly slumbering in its mother's arms, entirely unconscious of the impending calamity. * * *

Kind reader, let us pass over the next few hours, or get behind a tree, or crawl into a hole, as we are a little nervous and don't want to come into contact with a full-grown cyclone, and besides are in favor of letting nature take her course. Let us hitch up and go to Vinita and buy a lot of fishing tackle, a corn planter, a prairie breaker, a keg of nails, a few garden rakes and hoes, or a set of plow harness and a cultivator from Goodykoontz the Hardware Man.

Al! Fool's Day will come, and as Vinita is never behind the age in anything, it was to be expected that the day would be duly observed.
There were the usual number who went to the looking-glass to be convinced of scanty ablutions. One young man called on a young lady in response to a supposed urgent request to do so. A small package was carefully wrapped up and dropped on the sidewalk. Several picked it up, but took the hint and dropped it. Finally a negro passing, looked about him, and seeing no one looking, slipped it under his coat and retired to some lonely spot to examine his prize. The poor fellow will have to answer for theft on the day of judgment, and didn't get anything, either. One young man had sent a lady's hat to the milliner to be trimmed. A package was duly received, which, on being opened, proved to be a small band-box, elaborately decorated with feathers and flowers. But the best joke of the day was the cheap sugar sell. Some salt was mixed with molasses, and offered for sale at 20 pounds for $1. It created a sensation among people of an economical turn of mind, and a great many were induced to taste it before purchasing—some filling their mouths. Of course every one who tasted expressed himself as pleased and advertised the article industri-ously.

In a letter to the commissioner of Indian affairs concerning the question of citizenship in the Choctaw nation, the secretary of the commissioner's recommendation that the government be instructed to notify the claimants to citizenship to appear at the next session of tribunal and submit their claims as provided by the Choctaw law. Failing to do so they will be removed from the territory. From the decision of the Choctaw tribunal an appeal may be taken to the agent, who will submit all cases in appeal to the department. All persons finally adjudged intruders will be allowed a reasonable time to dispose of their property.

DELEGATE John G. Schrimsher will accept our thanks for bills introduced in Congress, and various newspapers.

An Indian Banking Association.
WASHINGTON, D. C. March 28.—
The House Committee on Banking and Currency authorized favorable report on the bill amending the revised Statutes so that the citizens of the five civilized nations of the Indian Territory be permitted to form organizations under the provisions of the national banking act, their Indian blood to the contrary notwithstanding.

To have young stock "and still (or nearly so) in growth during winter, which is half of the year, is to get one half, or nearly so, the natural growth, hence the many puny animals we find.

DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE for April is a highly entertaining and instructive number. The articles are varied and of an interesting nature; among which may be mentioned,
"How we Live in New York—the Charities of a Great City," by Jennie June; "Two Sides of the Question;" "The Diamond Pendant," and the admirable serial, "The Shores of Nothing." The various departments contain much that is useful, and the illustrations add considerably to the interest of the magazine. The frontispiece of this number is a beautiful steel engraving, "A Farewell Token."

It is estimated that there are now in the United States 15,000,000 milk cows, and that there are made annually 1,300,000,000 pounds of butter and 450,000,000 pounds of cheese. In 1880, as shown by the census, 772,204,000 pounds of butter were made on farms, and 29-451,000 pounds in factories, and a total of 243,145,000 pounds of cheese. Besides this, over 17,000-000 pounds of oleomargarine were also manufactured.
